Annie and her family make a home fire escape plan.
Annie and her brother Sam looked outside. They saw the family next door meet at the mailbox in front of their house.

"Look, Sam," Annie said. "They are practicing their home fire escape plan." They are outside.

They all met at their outside meeting place—the big tree in front of their house. “We did it,” said Dad. “It feels good that we all know what to do,” said Annie. “Thanks for helping us make a home fire escape plan,” said Sam. “It’s how we plan what we will do in an emergency,” Dad said.
"We should make a plan," Annie said.
"I like the sound of that," said Mom.
Annie and her parents looked at a website to learn how to make a home fire escape plan.

The next day, Annie's family practiced the plan. Dad pressed the smoke alarm's test button. Dad pressed the smoke alarm's test button. The smoke alarms practiced the plan.

Mom, Dad, Annie, and Sam quickly went out the front door.
“We also need a place to meet outside in the front of the house,” said Annie.

“Sounds good,” Sam said.

“Our big tree!” they all agreed.

Annie drew a big tree on the map.

“We need to make sure every room has two ways out; one can be a door and the other way out can be a window,” said Annie.
“Do we have smoke alarms?” Annie asked.

“Yes,” said Dad.

Mom tested all the smoke alarms in the house. The smoke alarms made a loud Beep, Beep, Beep sound.

Stop what you are doing and get outside right away,” said Sam.

Dad asked, “If a smoke alarm sounds, what should you do?”
